From My Heart...

Paul said, "Do not be deceived. God cannot be mocked. A man reaps what he sows." Galatians 6:7

Your life is a never-ending cycle of reaping and sowing, of planting and harvesting. Every day you experience both. Today you will enjoy (or, in some cases, not enjoy) a harvest you have planted in past days or weeks or months or years.

And today you are planting tomorrow's harvest. Your actions today create the life you will experience tomorrow, and in the days to come. "The one who sows to please the Spirit," Paul says, "from the Spirit will reap eternal life." And then he encourages us: "Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up." Galatians 6:9

Sometimes it requires all of your emotional reserves just to continue one more day in your journey. Remember: this is a journey worth taking, and it is not without reward. At the proper time, you will reap the harvest that you are sowing today.

How does all this apply to our graduates?

1) Keep sowing. What you sow today and tomorrow, you will reap in the future. Don't ever quit sowing, no matter how old you get!

2) Make the calls that aren't easy to make. There are decisions you will need to make that won't be easy. If you'll follow Biblical guidelines, God will bless!

3) Finish the task you've been putting off. Don't put things off, go ahead and bite the bullet and get them done.

4) Confront the problems you've avoided. All of us have problems. Confront the ones you have and get a game plan on how to deal with them. Then stick with it.

5) Do what needs to be done. Roll up your sleeves and do what has to be done. Don't whine...be ye doers of the Word!!
